Jo's Notebook

I was a little more than shocked to learn recently that there has not been a Girl Scout drive in Fulton for the past several years. The surprise was even greater because this isn't quite compatible with the usual response given to any and all fund-raising drives ever held here.

Except for the contributions made to the overall program by the Obion County United Fund, no organized drive has been held to finance the activities designed by the Four Rivers Council.

Failure to have a drive is certainly not the fault of any of the local, hard-working leaders. It's been one of those situations where time just passed by at the time for the drive and perhaps because there hasn't been enough push at the top of the leadership to make plans for fund-raising.

But all that's changed now. There is some very vital leadership in the Four Rivers Council now. Molly Parks and Mary Caudill are leaving no stone unturned to keep the Girl Scout program moving right along in the entire council area.

In addition to that, the gals were fortunate enough to get a gentleman like former Congressman Noble Gregory, to spearhead the Council's fund-raising this year. Being a little bit familiar with Noble's modus operandi you can better believe that every county in the area is moving right along with it's fund-raising this year.

In Fulton the parents of many of the Girl Scouts are raring to go to make up for lost years. You will notice in this week's story that the people heading up the various solicitation areas will bring about that $2552 goal or bust.

Of course, any drive that starts off with a $500 contribution, like the one made this year by the Obion County United Fund drive, has a right good incentive.

This gent Floyd Martin, and his co-worker Mike Blake really answered the call of distress by upping the South Fulton contribution to almost twice of what it has been in previous years.

Bless 'em and may the Girl Scouts love 'em forever.

You know, sometimes it isn't worth waking up in the morning. This week it simply wasn't worth looking at the clock Monday morning. I had such a wonderful, relaxing, fun-time in Louisville and Frankfort last week that I felt like tackling any challenge that came along when I got home.

I didn't expect them all to pile up in just ten short days, but they did, and how.

I found out that it's a lost cause to wait until very early on Wednesday to write my column.

Stories of greater importance than this small talk that usually appears here take precedence over the items I have scribbled in my Notebook during the week.

So I must shorten said missal for now!

And as I look at all the space I've used to say nothing I just wonder why I ever bothered.

But that's Life, or any other fifty cents magazine.

Used to be I'd say, "that's Life, or any other ten cent magazine."

So what. Maybe next week I'll be a little more organized. Sure!

Court Rules Against Candidates Failing To Have Eligible Petitions

Governor Nunn To Fill Posts After Election

"Governor Louis Nunn will fill the municipal posts in Fulton and Hickman with individuals who share the spirit of progress of the two communities," Larry Van Hoose, the governor's press secretary told the Fulton News on Wednesday.

Stating that the Governor had made a recent visit to this area, and that he has a special admiration for the enthusiasm and development goals of both communities Van Hoose said:

"Of course the Governor will discuss the matter with local officials and business leaders, but you can rest assured that he will make the decision with what he considers the needs of the community in mind."

"Governor Nunn is well aware of the vital and progressive goals both communities have set for themselves," the press secretary said, "and he will be guided by the high regards he has for both Fulton and Hickman," Van Hoose said.

The appointments will be made after the election when the outcome reveals that vacancies occur.

J. D. Hales, Joe Sanders and Fred Jolley were ruled ineligible as candidates for the post of City Commissioner of the City of Fulton. At the same time J. T. "Pee-Wee" Nanney was ruled ineligible as a candidate for the post of City Judge in the municipal election to be held on November 4.

The ineligibility stems from a ruling of the Kentucky Court Of Appeals which affirms the decision of Circuit Court Wood Tipton that write-in votes are unconstitutional under the City Manager form of government in cities of the fourth class.

Judge Tipton's ruling was appealed to the higher Court by Attorneys for J. D. Hales and others, who filed the suit. Hales was represented by Paul Durbin and Hunter Whitesell, local attorneys.

The suit was filed as a result of a confusion resulting from the number of names to be secured on the qualifying petition required of candidates for municipal offices. The law stipulates that 50 names are required. The ineligible candidates secured only 20 names on the advice allegedly furnished them by County Court Clerk Dee Langford.

According to an interruption of the statutes by attorneys, Governor Nunn will make the appointment to fill the vacant post after the election.

Qualifying for the City of Fulton posts are: W. L. Holland and Nelson Tripp for Mayor; Charles Robert Bennett, Charles Gregory and Bobby Craven for City Commissioners and Gilbert DeMyer and Don Hill for City Judge.

The City of Hickman finds itself in an even more confusing situation than does Fulton. Only one candidate, Brodie Creed qualified as a candidate for City Commissioner.

The office of Mayor, that of three city commissioners and that of city judge will be filled by appointment of the Governor after the election.

The opinion from the Court of Appeals, written by Justice John Palmore follows in its verbatim form: Opinion of the Court by Judge Palmore

AFFIRMING

The question in this case is whether a statutory provision to the effect that no person may be elected as mayor, police judge or commissioner of a city operating under the city manager form of government unless he has been nominated in the primary election provided for such cities is constitutionally valid. We concur in the trial court's judgment that it is.

Fulton is a city of the fourth class operating under the city manager form of government, KRS 89,390 et seq. Pursuant to KRS 89,440 candidates for mayor, police judge and city commissioner must be nominated by a petition signed by 50 or more voters and filed with the county court clerk at least 45 days before the day of the primary election, which is fixed as the seventh Saturday prior to the day of the regular November election. The primary election eliminates all but two candidates for each office to be filled, and only these survivors are permitted to be named on the ballots or voted for in the November election.

Girl Scout Fund Drive Planned South Fulton Contributes $500

With a greatly increased contribution from the Obion County United Fund drive as a starter, funds will be solicited from October 27 through November 1 for the Girl Scout program in Fulton.

Through the efforts of Floyd Martin and Mike Blake, co-chairmen of the Obion County United Fund Drive in the South Fulton area, the annual contribution to the twin city Girl Scout program was increased to $500. In past years it has been half that much, or less.

Oddly enough, the Obion County United Fund contribution has been the only local financial support given to the overall Girl Scout program in Fulton for several years. However, the program has continued without interruption or curtailment of the planned activities.

Rev. George Comes, pastor of the First United Methodist church, will be chairman of the down-town business district solicitation. Working with him will be Bill Fossett, George Brock, Joe Sanders, Frank Welch and Parks Weeks.

At the same time Mrs. Ron Laird accepted the chairmanship of the residential solicitation committee. Mrs. Laird, a popular young matron in the twin cities, has become an expert in fund-raising. She plans to carefully zone the city for specific areas of solicitations and will name captains and leaders for the house-to-house canvass. Her co-workers will be announced later.

A residential solicitation and other fund raising activities will be announced later this week.

"Girl Scouting in the Fulton area is equally as active as Boy Scouting," a long-time scout leader said today. The program is filled with activities for Brownie Scouts, Girl Scouts and then the older groups called Cadettes.

Volunteer workers, under the leadership of Rev. Comes and others, will seek $2552 to continue and expand Scout activities for girls from seven to seventeen years old in this area.

"I have accepted chairmanship of this campaign activity with pride," Rev. Comes said, "because I know that the program offered to the Girl Scouts in our town will help them to become better citizens at home, in their community and in the world." Rev. Comes went on to explain that the funds contributed to this campaign will be used to bring better scouting to more girls. The launching of the up-dated program for the Girl Scouts of the sixties requires additional training for all Girl Scout volunteers in our council.

"Through Girl Scouting," Rev. Comes affirmed, "our girls can enjoy wholesome recreation, make new friends, learn practical skills, and develop health attitudes that will help determine the direction their lives will take." The theme of the finance campaign for our Girl Scouts is "VALUES

TO HOLD - WORLDS TOEXPLORE."

Clothes Bank In Thanks For Good Response

The monthly meeting of the Fulton-Obion Counties Clothes Bank was held at the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday October 14, at 9:30.

The board wishes to thank the churches, organizations and individuals, for their gifts of money and clothing. The Fulton Sewing Center gave material this past month, from which children's pants, shirts and dresses have been made. Mrs. Wiley, Clothes Bank director, stated in her report, that with the opening of school, the supply of children's clothes is very low, especially boy's clothes.

From January through September, 885 children and 108 adults, have received 21,034 articles.

Bond Issue Appears Headed For Victory Next Week

With the endorsement by many of Fulton's civic, business and fraternal groups the Fulton Independent School District's proposed $850,000.00 bond issue for a new school building appeared to be headed for passage at the polls next Tuesday, October 21.

While a group of individual citizens are seeking defeat of the issue in a paid advertisement in this week's News, there appears to be little organized opposition to the proposal.

The bond issue has been unanimously endorsed by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Woman's Club, the Lion's Club, the Young Men's Business Club, the American Legion Auxiliary, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Business and Professional Women's Club, the West Fulton P-TA, the Terry-Norman P-TA and the Twin City Development Committee.

While many similar issues have met with little success in recent elections in other communities, Fulton's dedication to its local system and the strides it has made academically and administratively, is even more apparent in this proposal than in many of the others.

Today Nelson Tripp, a candidate for Mayor urged Fultonians to vote "Yes," for the bond issue. In making the statement, which appears in an advertisement in today's News

Mr. Tripp said:

"Perhaps I may lose a little support in my race (for Mayor) by endorsing the issue, but I feel it is much more important to the future of Fulton to have adequate and modern school facilities than it is for me to consider any political aspects of the matter."

Gene Hatfield, Chairman of the Fulton Board of Education, called the proposed new high school a "dream of a long time," and "something that must be built if we are to continue to have our own high school in Fulton."

Hatfield pointed out that the present building must undergo expensive renovation to be adaptable to current teaching standards, and because it is structurally impossible to alter the rooms and walls, it is questionable whether the school would conform to accreditation standards even after such work were attempted.

The alternative to continued attempted renovation of the 47-year-old-school is a modern new one, Hatfield pointed out, containing all of the up-to-date innovations of modern classroom techniques.

The building would be located on Stephen Beale Drive in Highlands, on a site across the street from the Ferry-Morse plant, on property presently owned by Charles Fields and Charles Reams, and comprising approximately 15 acres. This property is presently under option and the site has been approved by the State Department of Education.

Approval of the new building program will be asked of voters in a special election on next Tuesday. Voters will be asked to approve an additional 30¢ per $100 tax to support the program, which would be added to the present school tax of 65.5¢, making a total of 95.5¢. The voters can approve the program by a simple majority. Bonds would be issued for approximately 25 years, and should sell for 7% or less, the assemblage was told.

Supt. Charles Thomas stated that under current programs now provided by the State, some $24,000 annually received here in the form of capital outlay funds would also be applied against retiring the bonds, and that during the next 25 years (under current schedules) these State-supplied funds will retire nearly $300,000 of the indebtedness.

The new building has been designed to accommodate 300 students, with provision made for additional rooms if they are ever needed. There are presently 210 in high school here.

If the bond issue is approved, classes will begin in the new building in the fall of 1971. When questioned about possible opposition to the bond issue former Supt. Laurence Holland commented that "the people of Fulton have always been good to our schools when they need help," pointing out that three previous general-purpose bond issues here passed with majorities from 72% to 96%.

Endorsement of the school system, he pointed out, undoubtedly comes from the fact that it ranks No. 2 in the State in graduates attending college, and No. 1 in graduates finishing college. "This new building is the thing I have dreamed of for a long time," he added. Principal Bobby Snider pointed out that the present building simply cannot be adapted to modern teaching methods.

The new building includes an art department with classroom; a business education section with movable wall partitions; centrally-located gym seating 2,000 with removable stage area that links it to a centrally-located "commons" area adjacent to it; cafeteria with dining in the "commons;" 6 regular classrooms; a home economics section; an industrial arts shop area of 2400 square feet; language laboratory with 30 individual student listening booths; a spacious library located just off the central "commons" area; a music department section, and science rooms and laboratories. The building contains 44,000 square feet of space and will be air-conditioned except for the gym and shop.

Hales And Sanders Express Views On City Affairs, But Alas They Are Not Candidates

As a new story on the front page of this story indicates, Joe Sanders, J. D. Hales and Fred Jolley are not eligible to be candidates in the November 4 general election as City Commissioners.

However, Mr. Sanders and Mr. Hales have submitted their answers to questions posed to them by the Fulton News on certain policies of municipal government had they been candidates, and perhaps elected Commissioners.

The News regrets more than we can say their ineligibility for public office in this election. Both men have indicated by their answers that they possess a philosophy of city government that is so vital to the progress of the City of Fulton.

We don't mind telling you that both Sanders and Hales are our kind of forthright individuals who do not equivocate in their beliefs, nor do they appear afraid to step on the toes of the greatly expanding "Establishment," that seems to be taking hold of certain areas of our governmental affairs.

Well, anyway here are the views expressed by Messrs. Sanders and Hales, in which we most heartily concur.

Question: Are you in favor of continuing the City Manager form of government?

Hales

Yes. A business of the magnitude of this city demands the full attention and scrutiny of one who has no other business interests and who is specifically trained, either academically or through experience, in the field of city government.

Sanders

Yes. The City needs the advice of experience, and the same as in any business, one who can devote his full time.

Question: Do you think that Fulton can operate efficiently with a council-Mayor form if the City Manager form of government is voted out?

Hales

No. It would by necessity be forced to operate so if, as you state, the City Manager form were voted out by the people, but the degree of efficiency would be vitally affected and it would be a step backward for our community.

Sanders

No. The City can be operated under a council-Mayor form of government but not efficiently. City management is a full time job and should be treated as such.

Question: Are you in favor of the payroll tax?

Hales

I am in favor of necessary taxes which are required to efficiently operate the city and adequately pay its employees and officials, but I am opposed to the present payroll tax in the manner in which it was written because it contains provisions and inequities which are highly discriminatory and unfair to a large segment of our populace.

Sanders

I am in favor of a payroll tax if the money is needed to efficiently operate the City. I am not in favor of the payroll tax as it now stands. There are too many fallacies in the present payroll tax and a thorough study should be made in fairness to all concerned.

Question: What do you think of the city budgeting a reasonable sum each year to look for industry by the city and not the Chamber of Commerce?

Hales

I think the city should be vitally interested in the promotion of the welfare of the community and one way is by providing new job opportunities through the procurement of new industry. If funds are needed for this, and they are available, I would agree to that use.

Sanders

It is hard for me to conceive the difference between the "City" and the "Chamber of Commerce" when it comes to seeking industry. It definitely should be a joint effort with allocated funds from each source.

Question: How do you feel about allocating funds and technical assistance to try to get the Latin-American Friendship Center?

Hales

I do not feel that the Latin-American Friendship Center is a "folly" as some have said. I see great potential for our city if such a dream could come true. We cannot forsake the more vital needs, but again if funds are available, I would support assistance to bring this program to its fruition.

Sanders

I am in favor of and will support the Latin-American Friendship Center in every way I possibly can. Technical assistance should be furnished if that assistance is available. I am in favor of allocating funds PROVIDING funds are available after consideration of City operating expenses.

Hales

I have no plans. I feel we need a new city hall, but this is only one of many things we need.

Sanders

I have no "plans" as such, but the City is in dire need of a new City Hall and I certainly am in favor pushing the issue to its fullest extent.

Question: If so, where would the money come from?

Hales

No plans.

Sanders

A giant step has already been taken through Urban Renewal. This should be pursued with a never ending effort and at its conclusion it would be necessary for the City to make up the difference between the cost of a new City Hall and the funds furnished through Urban Renewal. In the event the Urban Renewal plans are not favorable to the City, pursuit toward other Federal Agencies should start immediately.

Question: Would you undertake to paint the exterior of the City Hall, at once or just let it go until a new City Hall can be secured?

Hales

This would depend upon how distant the future was which would bring about a new City Hall. If a new City Hall is just not possible for many years, I would favor reasonable maintenance of existing facilities in preference to utter neglect.

Sanders

No. Money spent on the present building would be wasted and would go a long way on the construction of a new building.

Question: How do you feel about having periodic open forums so people can express their views and complaints rather than have them appear at the formal city commission meeting?

Hales

I favor them highly. One of the weaknesses of our past city governments has often been a lack of communication with the people. I am not sure there are not also other methods of communication which would be equally as effective however as open forums.

Sanders

I am very much in favor of open forums, providing they are conducted in such a manner that it does not become an argumentative situation. The public should have the right to voice their opinion in any form of government.

Question: How do you feel about members of the City Commission and appointees to various municipal boards doing business with the City, in conflict of interest? (This includes the Fulton Electric System.)

Hales

I oppose the violation of any law. There are laws which prohibit such officials doing business with the city in conflict of interest, and were I in the position of having to face such a situation, I would not hesitate to halt it.

Sanders

I believe there is a State Law to this effect and we should comply with our Laws.

Question: Do you feel that property assessments are equalized among all citizens?

Hales

No. I do not believe that any particular segment of our society has been necessarily discriminated against; however, I believe, with what knowledge I have, that the assessments are not based on a sound system of appraisal which would be fair to all. I would like to see a professional evaluation of all property based on today's values.

Sanders

No. I feel that property assessments are not equal.

Question: If your answer is "no" do you plan to do anything about it?

Hales

Yes. I would urge a study with the idea of making changes which were found necessary and which could be kept within our capabilities.

Sanders

I think it should be thoroughly studied and evaluated according to the findings.

Question: Do you feel that our police force is too large?

Hales

I do not feel that our Police Force is too large.

Sanders

No. Question: Do you think we need an assistant chief of police?

Hales

I think we need a definite chain of command in order that the proper police protection can be available under all circumstances. I am leery of "bureaucratic overload" however, and appointment of too many offices and titles tends to create such a condition.

Sanders

No, not at the present time. If the need arises it should be then considered.

Question: Do you think it is discriminatory to have some city employees hold part-time jobs while prohibiting others from earning money other than that of their city salaries.

Hales

Yes. I would like to see all city employees paid respectable salaries so that part time jobs would not be necessary, and in those cases where the pay was adequate, I would oppose employees holding other jobs, especially within the structure of the city government.

Sanders

Yes.

Question: Do you plan to allocate any money for promotional expenses to advertise the City?

Hales

This is almost a duplicate of question number 4. I am in favor of the city doing what is necessary or reasonable for the best interests of all its people. If this takes money, and the money is available, I would agree to such allocation.

Sanders

"Advertising the City", as stated above, should be a joint effort with the Chamber of Commerce.

Question: Do you think City supplies should be bought locally, rather than to purchase them from mail order houses?

Hales

I think all goods that can be bought locally and still serve the best interests of the city should be bought locally. There are times when this condition does not exist, then I would be also agreeable to going outside of the city for procurement of goods.

Sanders

City supplies should be purchased locally providing the prices and quality are in line with other suppliers.

Question: Is it your plan to do all city business before the commission meeting then let the press and public know just what you want them to know?

Hales

It is not my plan to do any business prior to the regular meeting other than the necessary pre-planning. Certain preparations are necessary prior to the meeting, of course, but in the sense in which I take this question, my plan would be for the Commission to act on all official business of the city in a duly called meeting of the Commission meeting together.

Sanders

No. The meetings should be open to all concerned.

Fulton, Ky. 42041

Dear Mrs. Dixon:

On behalf of the members of the Louisville Tour of the Month Club, I wish to express great appreciation for your efforts expended in accomplishing the details that made our itinerary move smoothly for visiting the Banana Festival.

We are especially grateful for the courtesy and graciousness of Mr. Paul Nanny, for his time of hosting our group while in Fulton. This personal touch gave our group the feeling of welcome and the desire to return to Fulton on a future date.

Sincerely yours,
Edna Southard, Manager

Dear Jo:
Many thanks for the kind words. It is always good to receive favorable comments, especially so when they come from friends like you.

I am glad to know your feelings regarding the format of our news releases. I have passed your suggestions on to our news department.

It was nice to hear from you, Jo. Nancy and I send you our best wishes.

Yours very truly,

Dear Jo:

Many thanks for your recent letter and copy of the newspaper. Dr. Pirkey will be in the office at the end of the month, and I will plan to discuss your ideas about next year's Festival with him then. Of course, the decision will be up to him and Mr. Huff, as Vice-President for your region, but I will certainly put in my own plug for a meeting in Fulton next year.

I have enclosed a copy of our most recent Latin American Directory, which includes the names and addresses of the people you asked about. If you have any other information, please let me know.

We are in the process of putting out the September News-A letter, so I have not had a chance to write to the people you mentioned. Thank you for sending along their names again-will write to each of them next week.

If you have one or two good shots from the Festival, we would appreciate copies, especially if you have one of Dr. Pirkey. We might be able to get one into the Newsletter. I did ask a photographer who was at the Festival to send a few shots but he got away before I could get his name and he has not sent them yet. So, anything you could provide along those lines would be a big help. Don't worry about it if you do not have any suitable extras.

I still think about that great weekend. Many regards from everyone here.

As the barometer reaches the quarter way mark in the goal to secure members for the Community Concert Series, Mrs. Ward Bushart, campaign chairman, reminds interested citizens again that there will be no admissions sold to the concerts after the drive closes on Saturday. Meanwhile, the campaign progresses nicely. With a goal of 1,000 members as the object, officers feel confident that Fultonians will not fail to rally to the cause of good music for the city.

Girl Scouts - - -

Young girls of today are losing their taste for domesticity are probably unaware of the nearly 1,000,000 Girl Scouts - Juniors and Cadettes - who chose to work on badges for demonstrated skills in homemaking in the past year.

Although Junior Girl Scouts, ages 9, 10 and 11, have a choice of 47 badges in a variety of subjects, the largest number of girls chose to earn the "Cook" badge. For this badge one of the requirements reads, "Plan and prepare a simple, well-balanced dinner for your family or patrol."

For Cadettes, 12, 13 and 14 years old, there is also a wide range of badges - some 60 of them - but more "Hostess" badges were earned than any other. For the "Hostess" badge, Cadettes must develop a knowledge of a range of subjects, from planning a party and working out a series of menus to learning about the use and care of linens, dishes, glassware and silverware.

Badge work is an integral part of the Junior and Cadette Girl Scout program because recognition for achievement is so important to girls in these age levels. By the time they reach Senior Scout age they can take on more advanced activities and service projects which concentrate on the very same areas in depth and which serve as career exploration. But, above all, by the time Juniors and Cadettes meet all the requirements outlined in the badges for domestic skills, they should be as good as mother in the homemaking department, maybe even better.

Your contribution to the Girl Scout Council of Bear Creek Community Campaign here in the two cities will help our girls have fun growing into the kind of women we'd like them to become.

Area Residents Asked To Donate Photos For Purchase Edition

Old photographs are needed for the Sesqui-centennial edition of the Mayfield Messenger, to be published soon by the Jackson Purchase Historical Society.

Lon Carter Barton, Mayfield businessman and teacher, is the editor of the special edition of the Mayfield Messenger, which will depict the 150-year history of the eight Purchase counties--McCracken, Carlisle, Ballard, Hickman, Fulton, Graves, Marshall and Calloway.

"Practically all of the copy for this edition is in the hands of the Messenger staff," said L. J. Horton, Society president. "We need some more photographs of the first courthouses, trains, steamboats, cotton gins, bridges, schools, tobacco barns, ferries, industries, and other historical events."

Mr. Barton promises that photographs will be returned promptly to the owner if requested. Copies of the photographs will be made, and these will be preserved for posterity. Photographs may be delivered to Mr. Barton or to Mr. Bill Burnette, Head of Special Collections, Murray State University.

Since October 19, last year, the state of Kentucky has officially observed the Jackson Purchase Sesqui-centennial following a proclamation issued by Governor Nunn. Governor Isaac Shelby, General Andrew Jackson, and the Chickasaw chiefs signed the Jackson Purchase Treaty on October 19, 1818. By this treaty, the United States of America paid the Chickasaws $300,000 for the land in Kentucky and Tennessee, west of the Tennessee River, east of the Mississippi, and south of the Ohio.

The special historical edition of the Mayfield Messenger will be published this fall, according to Ray Edwards, publisher of the Mayfield Messenger.

BOWERS PROMOTED Morris E. Bowers, Route 2, Martin, an employee of the Moorman Manufacturing Company of Quincy, Ill., for the past eight years, has been promoted from feed sales representative to district sales manager.

COFFEE CUP CHATTER

SOAK AND SCRUB PEWTER TO RESTORE SHINE--Modern pewter needed only a gentle cleansing with soap or detergent suds, a good rinsing, and a soft rubbing with an old cloth. No special metal polish is needed.

Very old pewter is sometimes attacked by a "sickness" that spots it. This can only be stopped by soaking pieces in a solution of lye for fifteen minutes. Remove with tongs and scrub with a stiff brush and thick suds. Repeat this treatment, if necessary. Then restore the shine by rubbing and rubbing with soft cloths. If you need further information ask for our bulletin # H. E. 5-231--A, entitled "Care of Household Metals."--Mrs. Barletta Wraether, 209 Maple Street, Murray, Ky. 42071. Telephone: 753-1452

If you are a "packer of lunches" make it easy on yourself by setting up a lunch-packing-center in your kitchen. A special drawer or a box in the corner of your counter can be used to keep vacuum bottles, paper sacks, food wrap, napkins and other necessities which will help you pack lunches quickly, conveniently and carefully.--Miss Patricia Everett, Courthouse, Benton, Ky., 42025, Telephone: 527-6601

If you want to display a group of small items such as a collection of China Animals, shells, pebbles, or sculpture, try to add variety to your display. One way to do this is to put part of them on pedestals. Attractive pedestals can be made from empty thread spools of different sizes or blocks a child has outgrown. Paint them shiny black or lacquer red. Staining with a teakwood stain will also make an attractive finish.--Mrs. Mildred Potts, La Center, Kentucky, Telephone: 665-5671

MONEY MANAGEMENT--When people become concerned about money matters they usually reach one conclusion--must have a pay increase. Yet, this may not solve the problem. In many instances, a family could have the equivalent of a pay increase by simply planning better use of the dollars they are now getting.

Most of the advertisements in newspapers, magazines, and TV appeal to each of us, try to convince us that this is the product we need, that everyone else is buying it, and we can't get along without it. These bargain sales make us think we are making real savings. But if we didn't need a product, it isn't a bargain at any price.--Irma Hamilton, Courthouse, Mayfield, Ky. 42066, Telephone: 247-2334

Belts are the little things that are big in clothes today. Many of the leather ones with important buckles usually casual separates into handsome costumes. Some chains are updated with tassels and jewels. A word to the wise says watch what the belt and buckle does to your figure before you use it. Don't let it be said about you, "Here she comes--buckle first." Big buckles and protruding stomachs do not go together. Belts look best on a good figure and perfect posture.--Mrs. Catherine C. Thompson, Box 270, Hickman, Kentucky 42050, Telephone: 236-2351

Q. I plan to retire before I am 65. How will this affect my social security benefits? A. It is possible to receive monthly retirement benefits from social security as early as age 62. If benefits begin before 65, however, they will be reduced. This can be as much as 20 per cent less at 62. Your social security office can furnish an estimate of your benefit amount.

CAMPUS CHAT--Steve Jackson of Paducah, chairman of the Insight 1970 lecture series at Murray State University, stops between classes on campus for a brief chat with two coeds about the program next spring. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton D. Jackson of 1185 Markham in Paducah, is a senior psychology and speech major. Insight 1970, which will involve a work crew of about 200 students, will focus on science as it relates to society. About 6,000 people attended the first symposium last spring to hear five speakers in three nights.

SPLENDOUR FROM THE SEA, by W. Phillip Keller. "There are few areas of coastline, of comparable length, anywhere on earth, which have taken as great a toll of men and ships as has this violent strand--the graveyard of the Pacific." Thus the author describes this rugged stretch of Canadian coastline out of which this thrilling story evolves; and the setting is no more dramatic, dynamic and descriptive than the language he utilizes to describe it.

UNKNOWN BUT KNOWN, by Arthur Ford. Arthur Ford has been hailed as "America's most famous living medium." He is also an accomplished psychic researcher and pioneer thinker, and here states his mature philosophy, discussing significant case histories which include those from his own mediumship. He traces the history of psychic phenomena and considers their relationship to science and religion. He believes firmly in the psychic potential in every human being.

DUET, by Elisabeth Kyle. The daughter of Leipzig's best-known music master, pianist Clara Wieck was already an infant prodigy when the great composer, Robert Schumann, began to study music with her father. For several years he was a welcome and frequent guest in the Wieck household, but his visits ended abruptly when he proposed marriage to Clara--Herr Wieck had no intention of letting marriage spoil his selfish plans for his daughter's career.

THE PRIDE AND THE ANGUISH, by Douglas Reeman. This is a superb novel of the sea in which the epic theme--the fall of Singapore--is matched by adventure-narrative of the highest caliber. In November, 1941, Lieutenant Ralph Trewin arrives at Singapore as second-in-command of the shallow-draft gunboat H.M.S. Porcupine. To Trewin, still shocked from wounds received during the evacuation of Crete, the gunboat and her five elderly consorts seem to symbolize the ignorance and blind optimism he finds in Singapore.

TAKE A PAIR OF PRIVATE EYES, by J. T. McIntosh. Such a "swinging" young couple in mod-hippie London, and obviously devoted to each other! Ambrose and Dominique Frayne were also--not so obviously--devoted to stealing things. The Fraynes' "bag" was Recovery Enterprises, an organization specializing in stealing stolen property from crooks.

Dear Ann Landers.

Dear Ann Landers: I hope it isn't too late to respond to that old broad in Minneapolis who was disgusted with the world because, according to her, people would rather sit around and collect welfare than work. The stock phrase hurled at folks on welfare is, "Get off your can and get a job." The answer to that one is simple: Who is going to hire a boozier with a lousy work record, or a kid who has been in trouble with the law. Then there's the woman who has six little children and a missing husband--who could she leave the kids with, even if she had some decent skills, which she probably hasn't. I'm not even mentioning the aged or the sick.

The creeps who scream the loudest about welfare are the ones who try to convince themselves that poverty doesn't exist by moving to a better part of town so they don't see it. By now you may have guessed, I'm a teen-ager who is against the establishment. You can criticize our hair and our clothes and our music but we believe this is a stinking world we're living in and we aren't going to settle for it.--Also Disgusted.

Dear Also: I agree there are many aspects of the world that are stinking and I applaud the kids who refuse to settle for shoddy standards and phony values. But please don't burn anything down until you've got something to put in its place. There are others in this world besides you and you don't own it yet.

Dear Ann Landers: Two months ago my mother offered to buy my husband and me a car when we graduate from college in February if we both agreed to quit smoking. We were delighted with the offer and accepted it.

Three weeks ago my husband started to smoke again. I became absolutely furious. I considered it a personal affront that he did not keep his word since we both wanted the car so badly.

My husband and his family insist that my mother had no business pitting us against one another. Furthermore they say she was wrong to dangle the gift in front of us. What is your opinion?--Gift Horse

Dear Gift: Your mother made a generous offer--one which might have added years to your lives. You both accepted it. Your husband apparently had neither the self discipline nor the personal integrity to keep his word, so now you've both lost out. Put the blame where it belongs. On your husband.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter is 18 and pregnant. Gloria is crazy about the boy but he denies he is the father and refuses to marry her. He has even gone so far as to say he will prove in court, if necessary, that three of his friends had sex with her. We've begged Gloria to put the child up for adoption but she insists she wants to raise it. She is immature and has no sense of responsibility. I'm sure she wants to keep the child because she believes it will help her get the boy back. I have two children under 12 years of age and I'm in poor health. I cannot take on a new baby. I'm sure Gloria would put the work on me because this is the way she has always done. How can we make her listen?--F.L.P.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

OUR CHILDREN, OUR GRANDCHILDREN VOTE FOR A NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Election, Tuesday, October 21, 1969

This page is paid for by a number of responsible, tax-paying businessmen of this community who hope that the citizens of the Fulton Independent School District will vote FOR the School Bond Issue next Tuesday.

PROGRESS in the community means an up-to-date SCHOOL building for our children, and for the children of new families who come to look at our community as a place to live.

Our 47-year-old high school building has been a wonderful building through the years, but it is outmoded, worn out, expensive to maintain and entirely unsuited for the educational needs of today and tomorrow. Sooner or later we are going to have to replace it; let's face the problem NOW and do it NOW before construction costs climb higher and make it even MORE EXPENSIVE than ever.

Our School District is well-operated, well-rated and we want to keep it that way with these proposed new modern facilities. If you are honest with yourself, you will admit that we CANNOT keep its high standards up WITHOUT these new facilities.

OBION COUNTY

Joe Martin, County Agent
Union City, Tenn.

The Obion County Junior Livestock Association had a very successful auction sale of their steers and market hogs at the Obion County Fair recently. 46 steers returned to the youngsters $22,159.21 and 31 market hogs brought $5,900.78. By this time everyone should know that Bobby Collier sold his steer for $1.50 per pound and that Bobby sold his market hog for $2.75 per pound. Both animals were bought by E. W. James & Sons Supermarket. J.A. paid Ann Oliver $1.30 per pound for Reserve Champion Steer and Vic Ivy $1.10 per pound for Reserve Champion Hog.

We have inquired of a lot of people and a lot of different sources and we have yet to find a county anywhere that has a more successful sale of junior livestock. A lot of the credit for the sale operating so smoothly and successfully must go to the cooperation of Reelfoot Packing Company. The boys working in the beef cooler at Reelfoot told us this was the nicest bunch of calves the junior group had ever brought to Reelfoot.

The reason for a successful sale - organization and wonderful cooperation. It makes us all proud to live in Obion County when we attend the Junior Livestock Sale and see individuals, stores, banks, farm implement companies, community organizations, automobile dealers, tire dealers, chemical companies, feed mills, fertilizer dealers, and others buy the steers and market hogs. The youngsters selling livestock really appreciate the support of all the buyers.

A number of Obion County young people are now attending college on money they have made and saved through the Junior Livestock Program. T. C. Sowell of the Oak Grove area told us after the sale that his son Jim Sowell saved enough money he had made showing steers to carry him through over three (3) years of Agriculture College at the University of Tennessee at Martin.

The sale realized more dollars this year than last year on fewer steers with the steers averaging 51.18 cents per pound and the market hogs averaged 86.71 cents per pound. The steers and hogs averaged more this year per pound and per head than ever before. The lowest price hog sold for 55 cents a pound and the lowest price steer for 40 cents a pound. This year's sale was the smoothest operated sale ever held of Junior Livestock in Obion County and we attribute this to the wonderful cooperation of the buyers of the hogs and steers.

WORMS IN SOYBEANS

We have observed and received several reports of worms (corn earworm, boll worm, armyworm) in soybean fields entering on the pods of the soybeans. You cannot discover this worm damage by driving by the bean field but you'll have to walk through the field.

Grab and shake 3 feet of plants in 4 or 5 places in the field. Count worms on the ground and check close to the stalks. Apply controls when you find an average of one worm per two feet of row. Toxaphene, Methy Parathion, and Sevin will give good control of the worms.

Barley Included In 1970 Feed Grain Program

Barley will be included in the 1970 Feed Grain Program, it was announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The decision to include barley in the program follows the September 10 crop report which indicates a record new national average yield of 44.4 bushels per acre.

Until 1960, annual barley yields since 1886 had averaged less than 30 bushels per acre. In 1960, the crop average was 30.9; in 1965, it was 35.1; in 1967, 40.6; and this year, 44.4. Although harvested acreage has been declining, the larger yields have resulted in production increases.

Currently, the 1969 crop of barley is indicated to be 416 million bushels.

With JIM PRYOR
Agricultural Agent, Illinois Central Railroad

With the steady decline of farms and farm workers, some people say the farmer and American agriculture is a dying industry. Despite his declining numbers, the farmer continues to have a far reaching effect on domestic and world affairs as an employer, a consumer, a taxpayer, and a supplier.

Agriculture is still the nation's biggest industry, with assets of better than $275 billion. Farming involves 6 million workers, with 8 million people needed just storing, processing, and merchandising agricultural products. Farmers spend over $34 billion a year for goods and services just to produce their crops and livestock.

Besides being the provider of food for domestic markets, American agriculture is the world's largest exporter of food products. Our wheat provides an additional five billion loaves of bread in one year for the people of India.

Because there are surpluses of food and fiber, there are some who say the country should turn its attention to non-agriculture pursuits, and not put so much effort into agricultural research and education. Estimates are that by the year 2000, the population of the United States and of the world will have doubled. Half of the world's population already is undernourished, so this is no time to retrench in efforts to improve the productivity and efficiency of agriculture.

The Jackson Purchase Historical Society will take a bus tour October 18 to Tennessee to visit some of the South's finest historical spots.

Dr. Hunter Hancock, chairman of biological sciences at Murray State University and "tour director" for the historians, has announced the members will visit:

Meriwether Lewis Park on the Natchez Trace Parkway 35 miles southwest of Columbia, Tenn. The Natchez Trace. The 1842 St. John's Church built by Leonidas Polk.

The ancestral home of James Knox Polk at Columbia, Tenn. The Franklin Battlefield at Franklin, Tenn., called by Jefferson Davis the "Gettysburg of the West."

Carter House, commemorative shrine of the Battle of Franklin.

Historic Stage Coach Inn at Tiny Town, Ky., (dinner).

This year's tour will be the 15th of a series inaugurated by Dr. Hancock in 1959. The Historical Society has been observing for the past year the Sesquicentennial of Jackson's Purchase, which took place October 19, 1818. Governor Nunn a year ago proclaimed "the year beginning October 19, 1968, THE JACKSON PURCHASE SESQUICENTENNIAL in Kentucky."

Dr. L. J. Horton, president of the Jackson Purchase Historical Society, is asking members who wish to make the tour to send in their reservations to Miss Margaret Heath, secretary, Benton, Ky., not later than October 13.

"This tour will mark the last day of our Sesquicentennial," he explained. "Dr. Hancock has planned a magnificent tour."

The Battle of Franklin on November 30, 1864, was described by President Jefferson Davis of the Confederacy as the most frightful of the entire Civil War.

Of General Hood's 20,000 infantry in action, he lost 6,202 killed and wounded. Twelve Confederate Generals were lost. Five were killed outright: Generals Cleburne, Gist, Granbury, Adams and Strahl.

In this, "The Generals' Battle" at Franklin, General John C. Carter was fatally wounded and General Gordon was captured. Generals John C. Brown, Manigault, Quarles, Cockrell and Scott were wounded. Fifty-three regimental commanders were battle casualties.

"It was the fiercest death grapple of all battles on either continent," General Isaac B. Sherwood, federal officer wounded in the battle, stated.

C of C Directors Show Support For Postal Reforms

Support for reorganization of the U. S. Postal System into a separate postal corporation as recommended recently by the Kappel Commission has been expressed by the Board of Directors of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, reports Kentucky Chamber President LeRoy M. Miles of Lexington.

Miles emphasized today that the Chamber support is based on the principle of the recommended postal reform action and not upon a specific bill.

The Kappel Commission, headed by Fred Kappel, former board chairman of A & T, was appointed by U. S. President Lyndon Johnson in 1967 to conduct research and review of the postal system. After a year of work, the commission concluded that the present system is not capable of meeting demands and recommended sweeping changes.

The principle changes recommended reform of the system into a government corporation to be operated on a self-supporting basis; that service and facilities be immediately improved; that politics in appointments be banned; that strikes be prohibited; that provisions be made for employees to be transferred to the new service; and that postal rates be established by the corporation's board, with veto power available to Congress.

A number of bills have been introduced to Congress, identical in nature. President Richard Nixon's administration bills on the subject have provided that the corporation be given borrowing authority and that postage rates be set by a panel of experts, independent of the corporation, and that the service should be scrutinized regularly by Congress.

SQUARE DANCERS FROM 17 STATES assembled at Kentucky Dam Village State Park, Gilbertsville, Sept. 27 to attend the "Septemberfest" marking the end of a two-week square dance school conducted at the park by six nationally known square dance callers. This picture of the jamboree is indicative in a small way of what is expected to take place at the Kentucky State Fair and Exposition Center when the 19th National Square Dance Convention is held there next June 25-27.

The Fulton-South Fulton Business and Professional Women will join hundreds of thousands of fellow-members in a prayer breakfast to kick off National Business Women's Week, from October 19 through October 25. The local prayer observance will be held at eight o'clock Sunday morning at the Park Terrace.

Miss Anna Lou Caldwell, president of the local club, has appointed Mrs. Mildred Anderson chairman of National Business Women's Week. She will be assisted by Miss Amaline Homra and Mrs. Ruth Puckett. Handling public relations for the event is Mrs. Dollie Morgan.

Rev. Robert Layne, rector of the Episcopal Church, will be the guest speaker and Miss Kay Veale will be guest soloist.

Special guests invited are the mayors and city managers and their wives from Fulton and South Fulton.

The breakfast is scheduled to last about an hour, so that members attending may be able to attend regular church service.

The breakfast groups were begun in the early 1930's by a group of business executives and subsequently included leaders from various spheres of influence. Their purpose was to foster faith as revealed in the Bible and substantiated in experience. From that early beginning, these groups have spread into a national movement and are active in thirty-three countries of the world. Each group and each breakfast in autonomous, being tied together only by a mutual interest in the spiritual needs of the world.

In 1941 breakfast groups were begun in the United States Senate and House of Representatives. These groups have steadily grown and provide a fellowship and rapport among the men to Congress.

We'd be lost, wouldn't we, if suddenly computers were withdrawn from our daily life? We have become dependent on them to schedule airplane flights, point out scholastic aptitudes and aid the Internal Revenue Service in checking income tax returns.

But there are things a computer can't do. It can't make a home a better home or a man a better man. A computer can't heal sorrows and disappointments. It can swallow up a lot of statistics and clank out a lot of conclusions, but it can't direct a man to God's love.

As today's world is run more and more by automation, we need the help of the Church to guide us in the spiritual realm of life. We need to experience God's great love for all men. In our mechanical world, only the Church can help us find God's love.

elections. KRS 118.170(2) (a) provides that under the name of each candidate a space must be left for a write-in vote in favor of someone else. However, the provisions of KRS Chapter 118 do not apply to cities operating under the commission or city manager form of government "except to the extent that the laws relating to those forms of government provide that the regular election laws shall apply, and to the extent that the laws relating to such forms of government do not provide a method of electing any officer contemplated to be elected under those forms of government."

KRS 89.440 (1) is the specific target under attack in this proceeding. It says that no person shall be elected to the office of mayor, police judge or city commissioner "without first having been nominated in the manner prescribed by this section." Its effect is to render KRS 118.170 (2) (a), which provides for write-in voting, inapplicable. Appellants contend that the right of the electorate to vote for and elect persons other than those named on the printed ballot is guaranteed by Const. 86, which reads, "All elections shall be free and equal."

Authority for organization of fourth-class cities under the commission form of government originated in Ch. 77, Acts of 1914, Section 6 of which provided: "No person shall be elected without first having been nominated in the manner hereinafter prescribed." Section 6 of Chapter 114, Acts of 1932, authorizing the city manager form of government, contained a similar provision, as follows: "No person shall be elected to said office of mayor or police judge, or commissioner, without first having been (sic) nominated in the manner hereinafter prescribed." In the course of time the various enactments covering the city manager form of government in second, third and fourth class cities have been unified into what appears today in KRS 89.390 to KRS 89.680, inclusive. KRS 89.440 (1), the subsection under discussion, applies to cities of these three classes that have adopted the city manager form of government.

The first and foremost monument to be found in the field we are called upon to survey is WHITNEY V. SKINNER, 194 Ky. 804, 241 SW 350 (1922), in which this court held categorically that the counterpart of KRS 89.440(1), as it then applied to third-class cities operating under the commission form of government, did not violate the Constitution. One of the parties, Skinner, had succeeded in having his name printed on the November ballot as a candidate for city prosecuting attorney of Hopkinsville, though he had not been nominated as a candidate in the primary. Section 3480b-6, Kentucky Statutes, the applicable statute, provided: "No person shall be elected without first having been nominated in the manner hereinafter prescribed." At the regular election Skinner received 1385 votes stamped opposite his printed name and Whitney, who also had not been nominated in the primary, and whose name did not appear on the printed ballot, received 76 write-in votes. In a contest suit the trial court held that neither Skinner nor Whitney had been elected. Skinner conceded the correctness of the judgment, but Whitney appealed, contending he had been validly elected by the 76 write-in votes despite the statutory prohibition. In affirming the judgment, this court said:

"The elective officers of the city must be nominated for the several offices to be filled in what is called a primary election....

"In Hermann V. Lampe, 174 Ky. 109, 194 SW 122, it was said that, inasmuch as the General Assembly was empowered to prescribe the qualifications of municipal officers, and had provided that no one under the commission form of government should be elected to an office in such a government, without first having been nominated in the primary provided for that purpose, such nomination was necessary to make one eligible to hold the office. There is no apparent reason why the Legislature has not the power to require such qualification.... The persons nominated in the primary are to be certified to the clerk of the county court as candidates whose names are to be printed upon the ballots at the election, and no provision is made whereby any others may have their names printed upon the ballots as candidates or written or printed thereon by voters or others....

"These facts, considered in connection with the fact that the statutes prohibit the election of any one who has not been nominated in the primary because ineligible either to hold the office or to being elected thereto, leads inevitably to the conclusion that it is not permissible to vote for one whose name is not upon the ballot, because, in the absence of the name, it is apparent that such person has not been certified to the clerk nor published as a nominee, and for that reason that no person who has not been nominated in the primary and so certified and published is eligible to be voted for, and therefore the writing of the name of a candidate on the ballot and voting for him is illegal....

"The failure to make a provision upon the ballots to enable voters to vote for one to fill an office who is ineligible to hold it, or to prohibit the voting for one whose ineligibility to hold the office appears to every voter by the name not being printed upon the ballots as a candidate, cannot be said to be an infringement of the right of suffrage or contrary to section 6 of the Constitution, which provides for the freedom and equality of elections." 241 SW at pp. 353-354.

WHITNEY V. SKINNER was followed and cited with approval in MADDOX V. CITY OF MIDLESBORO, 199 Ky. 425, 251 SW 201, 202 (1923).

Counsel for appellant recognizes these precedents, but points to an observation in DUPIN V. SULLIVAN, Ky., 355 SW 2d 676, 678, (1962), that they "ARE NOT FREE OF DOUBT," and cites BROUGHTON V. PURSIFULL, 245 Ky. 137, 53 SW 2d 200, 202-203 (1932), for the proposition that although the legislature may prohibit the name of a person not nominated in the primary from being printed on the ballot, it may not disqualify him from being elected by a write-in vote. See also ASHER V. ARNETT, 280 Ky. 347, 143 SW 2d 772, 775 (1939), in which it was said that the right to elect or be elected by write-in vote "is a constitutional right, but the privilege of having one's name printed on the ballot as a candidate for a particular office is necessarily limited to those who comply with the requirements prescribed by the Legislature, having for their object the ascertainment of the will of the electorate within the limits of practicability."

Whatever doubt may otherwise have existed with respect to the soundness of WHITNEY V. SKINNER is resolved by the last sentence of Const. 8160, which reads, "The general assembly shall prescribe the qualifications of all officers of towns and cities, the manner in and causes for which they may be removed from office, and how vacancies in such offices may be filled." BROUGHTON V. PURSIFULL involved the office of sheriff, and the court was of the opinion that the qualifications set forth in the Constitution were intended to be plenary and exclusive, beyond the power of further limitation or restriction by the legislature. "Hence....where the Constitution prescribes who shall be qualified to fill an office created by it, by enumerating certain qualifications that he must possess, there is a clear implication that any one possessing such qualifications may fill the office, and it is then incompetent for the Legislature to prescribe additional disqualifications not recognized by the Constitution, notwithstanding it might be competent to regulate, by statute, nominating primary conventions or elections, to be followed by certain results, not including, however, ineligibility of a defeated candidate in such primary to run, or be voted for the same office at the following general election."

Abiding by WHITNEY V. SKINNER, 194 Ky. 804, 241 SW 350 (1922), we hold that the legislature is empowered by Const. 8160 to subject candidates for municipal office to the qualification that they must be nominated in the primary election as provided by KRS 89.440.

The judgement is affirmed. All concur.

CAN FULTON PROPERTY OWNERS AFFORD ANOTHER TAX ?

Two new taxes just last year
The Library tax and the payroll tax

WHAT NEXT YEAR...

A property tax for urban renewal?

MORE local property taxes for general school purposes as proposed by KEA this week?

DO YOU KNOW THAT--

Fulton area taxpayers are burdened with a POLL tax, HEALTH tax, LIBRARY tax, COUNTY bonded indebtedness tax, SOIL conservation tax, WATERSHED conservation tax, BANK SHARES tax, FORESTRY tax, city, county and state PROPERTY taxes, PAYROLL tax, city AUTO license tag, HEAD tax, SCHOOL taxes... and many more "hidden" taxes. The proposed 30c tax increase would be 95.5c PER $100 of Property assessment one of the highest in the State of Kentucky and in our DEPRESSED area.

Think of this burden for the NEXT 25 YEARS!

Our present high school accommodates 210 students. The new school is being built to accommodate only 300 students.

Isn't it poor judgment to spend $876,000.00 of taxpayers money at 7 per cent interest for 25 years to accommodate just 90 students.

IS THIS THE KIND OF INDUSTRIAL PLANNING WE'RE DOING?

IS IT GOOD BUSINESS TO GIVE THE OEO FREE RENT AT MILTON SCHOOL

WHEN THE PROGRAM HAS A $150,000.00 Budget a year?

VOTE AGAINST THE SCHOOL BOND ISSUE
VOTE AGAINST more burdensome taxes every year!

GOP Is Charged With 'Shakedown'

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Charges that the state Republican Administration has "just completed its fourth shake-down" of state employees have been leveled by the Kentucky Young Democrats.

The Young Democrats said their investigation has shown that many employees are disturbed by the situation.

With the charges, the organization included an assessment table they said is being used by the "regime" of Gov. Louie B. Nunn.

Figures on the table range from $20 asked of an employee making $285 to $340 a month to $250 for those making $1,708 monthly or more.

Collections were due Oct. 1, the Young Democrats said, and employees were told to make checks to either "cash" or the "Republican Campaign Fund."

One of the complaints received by the Associated Press during another purported political collection drive months ago was from state workers who said they objected to a requirement of cash only.

The Democrats said the list of figures was obtained in the state Highway Department.

Commissioner Eugene Goss said last Monday during a cable television interview that he was not aware of any political assessments.

The Young Democrats said they are not releasing names of state employee tipsters "for obvious reasons," but added:

"One civil engineer, a recent graduate of the University of Kentucky, was so outraged because of the shakedown and pressure tactics, the engineer has vowed to quit and seek outside employment."

"An assistant highway foreman in one county already has been called in upon the carpet

More Autonomy For U-T Martin

The University of Tennessee board of trustees, meeting today in Knoxville, approved a re-organization of extension, creating Divisions of Extension at the University of Tennessee at Martin and on the school's campuses at Memphis, Nashville, Chattanooga and Knoxville.

Each campus will have its own dean of continuing education, the trustees said. "This proposal will enable the degree-granting campuses to have more autonomy in developing their own continuing education programs, such as evening schools," said Dr. Jack L. Williams, academic vice president.

In other action, the board authorized employment of L.C. Thomason Associates of Nashville to prepare plans for expansion of the Martin campus steam plant and distribution system.
